Nonobstructive azoospermia can exist in men with normal hormonal profiles as the hormones don’t accurately reflect what is going on in the testicle.

Why? Because one of their main food sources came from following fishing trawlers on the ocean.

The overall costs of the repositioning process by pooling additional investment resources (mainly public...